What Next?

Some Topeka folk deem it just returned from the east and has been interviewed. Among other things he says thousands of Republicans are deserting Blaine and going over to Cleveland because of Blaine's doubtful marriage record. Ye shades of Maria Halpin in the name of Heaven what are we coming to.

NEW DECISIONS.

The State Board of Railway Commissioners have just rendered four important decisions among which is one to the effect that railroads have no right to charge car mileage over and above any regular rate.

The application for a switch and side track on the Wichita & Western road, Kingman branch, at Oakland, in Kingman county, has been refused. The board of commissioners say that there is no public necessity which would justify them in ordering such switch or side-track established.

MEAN AND FALSE.

It has been given out by the enemies of John Kelly or by parties interested in the election of 1896, that there can be no mistake about it, for we have heard it from different sources that Kelly had been a complaining witness against several liquor sellers in this county, among others one or two dealers at St. Marks. The tale is false, a lie out of whole cloth and promulgated only to prejudice the friends of Kelly.

How Can You Do It?

There are a few ex-union soldiers in Sedgewick county, who, through the influence of others, or because of unfortunate circumstances, are touching the law-abiding prohibition party in dealing with violators of the Prohibition law, are going to vote for Kelly. At least they say they are. We sometimes wonder if these ex-union soldiers, who are loyal to the core, know Kelly's copperhead record upon the one hand, the glorious record made by John A. Martin when a leader of as gallant a regiment as ever formed in the history of the United States, on the other hand. Up to the close of the war, Kelly was looked upon and held in high esteem by the people of this county as a man of the most dependable type. He had no use for you men who were making such sacrifices to save your country.

Capt. J. R. Johnson in his speech at Abilene, took up the record of Mr. Kelly as found in the legislative journals, and he gives the dates and pages which prove Kelly to have been just what he was always considered to be before he became the champion of the personal life of John A. Martin. When John A. Martin was at the front on the 17th day of January, 1863, George W. Kelly voted against and opposed a resolution of the legislature thanking the brave boys of Kansas for what they were doing. He did more than that, he voted and fought a resolution of sympathy for the surviving widows and orphans whose fathers and husbands had fallen in defense of home and flag. When Col. Ewing, a Kansas war Democrat, decried out the bushwhackers of the 5th Illinois in western Missouri, and the Kansas Legislature desired to furnish them with arms, Kelly voted against it. When the same Legislature proposed to thank the British anti-slavery society for their sympathy and support to the Free State party in Kansas, George W. Kelly interposed his copperhead vote. When Martin P. Conway, Kansas' first representative in Congress, sold out his party and virtually went over to the side of the rebel sympathizers, Kelly tried by filibustering to defeat a resolution denouncing Conway's recency. Kelly hated Union soldiers and voted to take out of the treasury the money to pay the bounty on the rebel adjutant general. Afterward in 1865 he protected against a law which contemplated enrolling every man in the State in the militia to protect Kansas against the gangs of Quantrill and Marmaduke and old Price. He voted far as to write out a long copperhead protest, which is inscribed on the journals, and in which among other things he said that the bill enrolled negroes and that he believed that it was degrading to a white man.

The County Superintendent.

ILLINOIS TOWNSHIP, Oct. 3.

I find that some people have an idea of what is fair or mainly the moment that they hear of politics. Now I cannot see any reason why we cannot be as honorable in politics as in anything else. These ideas were brought to my mind by hearing some conversation in Wichita, Kan. by some man in regard to the question of the election of 1896, and the reason given for opposing Hammond was that he was not a native born citizen. It was simply the fact that some failed to get certificates at the examination. Now it seems to me that such a contemptible course as that is without a shadow of an excuse, for it is well known that the constitution of this county are noted for the practical questions, and those tending to find out the teacher's general knowledge and if a person fails to get a certificate as they expect, or fail entirely, it shows that they are not fit to be teachers. It is a very poor idea of what is right, for a person fails to get a certificate only for a few minutes of the examination. I think they have been defrauded, they should know that it is the simplest thing to find out the number of votes they can control. Hammond would get a copy of their examination papers which they know the superintendent keeps for his own protection and exhibit them to the public, they would be doing a good thing for Hammond and the voters would say that the examiners (not the superintendent alone) did a good thing for the public by withholding a certificate. Now boys stop your howling or own up that you want the examiners to sign you a certificate because you can't earn it. You have a copy of your papers if you dare.

GRUNTING GLICK.

The prohibition Governor of Kansas, who advocates prohibitory laws for the protection of cattle but denounces prohibitory laws for the protection of men, has of late been issuing another proclamation calling upon all good citizens to help the officers in the enforcement of this particular prohibitory law which he took a solemn oath that should be enforced. This is about the third proclamation issued on that subject, to say nothing of an expensive extra session and a high-toned cow doctor that don't know the foot and mouth disease, or even the full of whiskey at the head of a torch-light procession. A good many people have been wondering why the Governor has shown such a solicitude for cattle. It's leaked out. We see it stated that Mr. Glick is interested in a herd of cattle in the Indian territory, in addition to his Shiloh Hill farm.

The Democrats of Wichita.

The Democrats of Wichita have been making pretty spectacles of themselves or else they don't intend to vote for Glick. They have been denouncing by resolutions the cattle men of the Indian territory, while the head of the party, Governor Glick, has in turn been advising them to stand by one prohibition law and to spit upon another equally as loudly.
